SATURDAY MORNING SEP. 13, 1851.

P Pho destardly attacks of the Loceloco press upon President Fillmore and his Cabinet, in regard to their ac tion relative to the recent piratical invasion of Cuba, are perfectly characteristic of the men who compose that party. and of the doctrines which they advo-

In a previous article on this subject, we explicitly stated that as our Government was at peace with Spain, we were obsigated to make good the laith of our Treaty, by preventing all citizens of the United States from participating in this piratical invasion; and that was all which the United States had to do. As far as it was in the power of the Govemment, this has been done with a promptness and energy which does; henor to the nation.

We know that the authorities at Weshington had reason to suppose that troops were being equipped at New York, for the purpose of joining in the expedition; | ed to have removed him from office inand that they would proceed to this place by various toutes, and here embark on board of ships which were to broken, and we should have actually decome for them, and then proceed to $Cu^{-\frac{n}{2}}$ clared war against that nation. ba. In anticipation of this event, the President clothed Gov. Lawton, Collector of this port, with the most ample authority, to be aided by the army force here, to intercept any such movement, and to arrest all such persons. The commandant at Fort Adams, in this harbur, also recieved instructions in the matter, and was directed to uso his whole force when called for by the Colleutor. While the myasion was in embryo and progressing, it was not proper to make public any of the confidential arrangements of the Government, because by that, their plans would have been trustrated. We therefore, have said nothing about the matter before, notwithstanding the Incoloco presses have so grossly slandered the Executive and his Cabinet, charging them with a dereliction of duty, cowardice and all such things. We comment upon these matters now, since the trouble is all over and the pirates have been captured and most of them executed, for the pur resentable is of that the administration out, and that the President and all who acted under his authority, have been dis charging their duty in an efficient, quiet and dignified manner. We presume that similar instructions have been given to other Government officers at other sea-ports along the coast. The Collector at New Orleans neglected to discharge his duty in preventing men from embarking at that place for Cuba,-am the result was that President Fillmore immediately dismissed him from office What more could the President have done? Surely nothing. Yet the loco foco papers are violently denouncing him; and for what? Why because he has not indirectly aided in the invasion of Cuba. Because he has not made this piratical attack on the Spanish do main a notional affilir, and ordered the array and navy to the city of Havana

We have stated before, and we now reiterate is, that the United States being at peace with Spain, it was the duty of this Government to aid in stopping thi invasion, by resorting to all means with m its power to keep its citizens at home when this was done, its duty was dis charged. Had the Spanish authoritie offered any insuit or allowed any injury to be done to American citizens residing at Havana, our Government would have instantly interfered, and redressed the wrong; but such was not the rase --Those Americans who went to Cubi with Lopez were outlaws, and had the not been punished by the Spanish Gov erament, they would have been answe able to cur own, for levying war upor a friendly power. The locofeco paper have also denounced the Hoa. Samue F. Owen, our Consul at Havana, in the most vituperative terms; the passen gers on board the Cherokee, on her re tura trip, held a meeting, at which Gen Lune presided, and pasced a denunci, tory resolution, which was worthy only et blackguurds and rollian leafers. We know Mr. Owen personally, and we know him to be a gentleman of latell, gence, honor and integrity, who understands his duty, and who promptly disclarges it in all occasions. He was member of the 31st Congress from Genegla, was highly respected, and estern ed at Washi: gton, and enjoys the folicer confidence of the President and his Cab met. Two years ago we boarded at the same house with Mr. Owen, and fat next to him at table; and we had ample means of knowing him thoroughly ad understanding his character well and we confidently assert that this Gov rement has no more prompt and eff-

clent representative abroad than Sanley

F. Owen. Crittenden's party were cap-and carried it by storm.

niced and ordered to be shot. What could Mr. Owen do? He undoubtedly regretted that they had been so foolish as to place themselves in such a position and one from which no human power could legisfly extricate them. He was diere as the representative of the United States, some of whose citizens had volmarry outlawed themselves, and while attempting to revolutionize the Government to which he was accredited, had been custored and were about being preished. Mr. Owen had his authority before him in the President's Proclamation, which pronounced all citizens of the United States who should engage in the Cuba enterprise, outlaws, -- and further declared that by such ness they West ferfeit all claim to the protection of the Government,- and that if reptured by the Spanish authorities, this Gov-Canton would not interfere in their behalf Here was a plain case. What er all Mr. Owen do? What ought he to so? Why nothing. Had he gone to Coucha, the Captain General of the latand, and demanded a surrender of the experted pirates, or a commutation of the punishment, he would have violated his instructions, and compromised the faith and honor of the nation, -and the President would have been compellstandy, and disclaimed his act,-or else our treaty with Spain would have been

This is one of the plainest casse its aginable, and it is not succeptible of honest misunderstanding. The people at large will comprehend it fully, and all honest, true-hearted Americans will pronounce a firm approval upon the conduct of Millard Fillmore and his Cabinet, for their able, faithful and patriotic discharge of duty. Unprincipled men and lying politicians will attempt to misstate the facts, and appeal to the baser passions of the rabble, with the hope of ercating excitement in favor of their party. But it will be of no avail, for the honesty, intelligence and patriotism of the American people will approve of the conduct of Millard Fillmore, -and their verdict, and the satisfaction of his match, and had to be docked and repairown conscience, is all that he asks or de-

INDIA AND CHINA.

The India and China mail reached London on the 27th, with Bombay dates of 26th July, and Calcutta 15th. The disturbances at Cashmere had been quelled, and Gholab Single retained possession of his throne.

The news from China is again rather alarming, the rebellion in the Southern provinces being reported to be gaining strength. In addition to the murder of the crew of the British ship Larpent, it is stated by three men who escaped from her, that the crew of the American barque Coquette shared the same fite.

The following complement to Ds. Stephes Jewers and his medicines is well deserved, and from what we learn of them, and the references to eminent and high standing citizens, we advise those who are in need of medicines to give them a thorough trial.

[From the New Hampshire Section!]

DR. STEPHEN JEWETT.

Dr. Stephen Jewelt was a native of Rindge, N. H. He was born in 1763, Rindge, N. 11. He was norm in 1905, and was engaged in an extensive and successful practice of medicine for more than thirty years. He was one of those vigorens, self-taught men that appeared on the stage in years gone by, but of whom hardly one now remains. Obstacles which dishoutened others, presented in importunity to his arrive and stactes which distourtened others, presented no impediments to his active and vigorous mind. He was by nature a physician. In early life his commenced his experiments to discover the medical quality of roots and herbs. He availed himself of the aid of books and physicians, when appreciate entered. cians, when opportunity odered but was notrainmelled by the dogmai of books, professors or schools. In the course of years by did of hard study, imwearied experiments and layestigations, he became an confinent physi-

He devoted himself more particularly to those diseases which are commonly called chronic, affecting the vital organs; and in this department of disease he was preeminently successful. Many who had gone through a course of inedical treatment with celebrated practitions are treatment with celebrated practitions. ers, and pronounced incurable, finally reserted to him and were restored to health. Although he lived in a retired neatth. Atthaugh he need in a terred country village, his name and his skill became known throughout a large por-tion of the New England States. His medicines seemed to give a new tone, meanines seemen to give a lost one, iffe and vigor to the whole system.—
They had a renovating power which no other medium seemed to possess. The writer of this well remembers of witnessing in early life some of his remarkable cures. A person afflicted with derange-ment of the stomach and bowels, an affection of the lungs, or inaction and general debility of the whole body, was sure to find relief by applying to him. Enoch Patterson, Esq., of Boston, foreignly the well known proprietor of the Patterson House, in Elm street, says that more than thirty years ago he was to all appearances in the last stages of consumption. Having heard of Dr. Jewett, he thankly he would attempt to gain his though the would attempt to gain his care; but so weak and feeble he then was, that it took him two and a half days to ride the distance, although it was only sixty miles. He took his med-icines and became immediately relieved, and in a short time was restored to good health. And he compliationly says, "To his medicines, and his alone, do I attribute my recovery." Many persons now living can attest to numerous cases of disease cured by him, similar to this. In 1825, Dr. Jewett died, aged 62.— Although he had a vigarous constitu-tion, yet his meessant toil, in a practice too exclusive and laborious for even a out before 'ener to endurg, were him His numerous friends then supposed that his skill had died with him. His son, the present Dr. Stephen Jewett was thee, and for many years afterwards in other pursuits, and paid no attention to medicine, or the cure of diseases. At length the importunity for the Jewett medicines was so great, that he felt compelled to turn his attention to the subject. In examining his fath-er's papers, he found full receipts for making his medicines. He commenced making them on a very small scale, and dealt them out to those who applied.— But to begin to make and deal out the old D. Stephen Jewell medicines, was like touching fire to the dry grass of a Western prairie. He could not supply the demand. He was overwhelmed with applications. He then began in sober carnest to make the Jawett medicines in sufficient quantity to supply the demand. It is only two years since he commenced the manufacture, and as yet the demand seems to outstrip the supply. The Jewett medicines are des tined to pervade the country. They will become more extensively known and used than any other medicine yet discovered, not excepting, "Brandreth's Pills," and the various kinds of "Sarsaparilla." They will dilfuse health and comfort wherever used, because they are really what they are stated to be, health restoring medicines, and "will stand the test of talents and of time."

Although Dr. Jewett had a large practice, extending to the remotest corners of New England, and even to the city of New York, yet his moderate charges and his gradultous visits to the sick and needy were so many, that he merely acquired a moderate competen cy during his life; yet it may be truly said that he has left to his descendant said that he has left to his descendant a logacy richer than the choicest mine of California gold; white at the came time he has bestowed on posterily re-greater been than untold wealth car ever give. If he lived for wealth he lived in vain; but if he lived to do who he could to allevinte the sufferings o his race, as unquestionably he did, then he nobly fulfilled the great duties o life, and has gone to receive his reward.
